

explore WESTERN UNIVERSITY GRADUATE PROGRAMS

AWISH ASLAM

MA candidate, Sociology (Migration and Ethnic Relations)

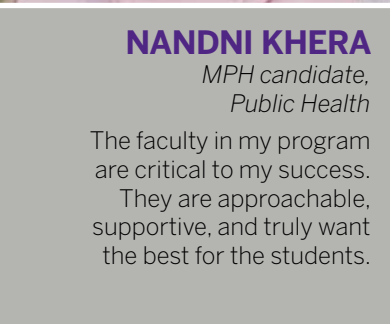

I knew the Migration and Ethnic Relations program would enhance my understanding, and provide me with opportunities to develop a strong network in the field.

TOM LARDNER

PhD candidate, Civil and Environmental Engineering

I came back to do my PhD because of the great experience I had during my Master's degree, and I had the ability to work with great people on interesting research.

NANDNI KHERA

MPH candidate, Public Health

The faculty in my program are critical to my success. They are approachable, supportive, and truly want the best for the students.

WILSON LUO

PhD candidate, Chemistry

In the Chemistry department and at Western University in general, we have a wealth of resources and facilities available to us to conduct our research.

TYLER BEVERIDGE

PhD candidate, Anatomy and Cell Biology

Students, faculty, and staff – everyone is so inviting and willing to listen or give feedback on your work. It is a very altruistic environment where everyone is helping everyone.

CARRIE WARRING

MA candidate, Geography

I recognized the value and need for research in public health, and wanted a graduate program that would provide me with the skills required to be successful.

STEFFI STEPHENSON

MCISc candidate, Pathologists' Assistant

I'm constantly being challenged and engaged by not only my peers, but also by my mentors and instructors.

JOSH LEE

MPT/PhD candidate, Health and Rehabilitation Sciences

My supervisor is probably one of the most innovative, accommodating, and down-to-earth people I've ever met. He allows me a huge amount of creative control on our project.

CHAD LOUWERSE

DMA candidate, Music

The course work has been interesting and challenging and the faculty members I've taken courses with have been knowledgeable and fun to work with. They create a really positive learning environment.

CAROLINE DIEZYN

PhD candidate, English

The faculty in the English department at Western University are beyond compare. When I was considering which professors I'd most like to work with, the answers kept pointing me back to Western.
